GENERAL continued

- Four members of the faculty have been awarded Canada Council Grants for further research in the social sciences and humanities. Recipients are Professor I. Bar-Lewaw, Chairman of the Department of Foreign Literature; William E. Echard, Associate Professor of History at Glendon College; Heinz J. Schueler, Assistant Professor in the Foreign Literature Department on York Campus; and J.L. Granatstein, Assistant Professor, Department of History.
- The Department of Highways is currently conducting a traffic survey throughout the Metro area and surrounding districts. The traffic patterns generated by York University have an impact on this survey. Traffic counts will be carried out on York Campus during the week of March 3. In addition, questionnaires will be mailed to a large proportion of the student population. It is hoped that everyone will co-operate in this survey in an endeavour to meet the public need.

GENERAL

- A series of wood and linocuts portraying various aspects of human relationship, by Audrey Garwood, is now on display in the Winters College Art Gallery. This exhibit will be open until Friday, March 7.
- Due to the spring run off, drivers should use extra caution at the entrances to the campus where icy patches appear in the morning.
- Some examination tables have been on loan to members of the faculty and staff for the past year. These tables will be required for examination purposes during April and action is now being initiated to reclaim them.

The Department of Physical Plant will be collecting these examination tables throughout the campus during the week of March 10. The co-operation of everyone in releasing these tables would be appreciated.

- During the month of March, Steacie Science Library and Leslie Frost Library will extend their hours of operation on an experimental basis. Beginning today, both libraries will remain open until 4:00 a.m. Monday through Friday. The weekend schedule will remain unchanged. From 10:30 p.m. until 4:00 a.m., there will be no reference, circulation or reserve book service.
- The Operations and Engineering Division of the Department of Physical Plant advise that they are in a good position to provide prompt and economical on-campus services in the following areas: plumbing, electrical, carpentry and cabinet making; and suggest you "Do It Now". Please contact your Building Services Co-Ordinator to arrange for estimates or work to be carried out.
- Steacie Science Library is sponsoring a special film showing of "Christopher's. Movie Matinee", which is not being shown in theatres. A co-production of the National Film Board and a group of Toronto High School students, it was filmed at the time of the Yorkville hippie sit-ins in the summer of 1967. It will be shown on Monday, March 10, at 2:00 p.m. in Room N102, Humanities Building.

GENERAL

- Faculty, staff and students are reminded that the existing parking regulations are required on a continuing basis. Year round academic activities and an increasing number of summer courses make it necessary for traffic to move as freely as possible from April to September. Accordingly, after the end of the spring lecture programme, during the examination period and continuing through the summer, parking will still be authorized in the posted areas only and campus permits will be required. The absence of signs still means "NO PARKING".
- Radio York closed last Saturday for the summer. There is a possibility of their re-opening during the meeting of the Learned Societies and the Bata International Conference this summer, to provide music and paging services.
- A 72 voice group, the Harpur Chorale, under the direction of David Buttolph, will be appearing in concert with the York University Choir in Burton Auditorium on March 31 at 8:00 p.m. The concert is open to the public, and there is no admission charge.
