GENERAL

- * Students interested in participating in Crossroads Africa, an organization of student volunteer aid, should contact Mr. John Becker's office in Vanier 260 (local 2226) by Friday, December 11. Testing will begin on Monday, December 14.
- * The Safety Officer of the Department of Safety and Security advises that recent damage and in some instances removal of a number of winter condition fire hydrant markers is giving cause for some concern. These devices have been installed as a preventive measure against damage during snow removal operations, but most importantly they provide identification of strategically located hydrants to the North York Fire Department should the need arise for additional water supplies to combat any major fire condition.

The seriousness of this practice cannot therefore be overemphasized as it may endanger the safety of the Community and the preservation of University property, not to mention the effects of a major interruption of everyday activities.
- * The Women's Gymnastic Club has been cancelled for December 9. The next session will be Wednesday, January 6, 1971.
- * Professor Georges E. Steffan, official University Calligrapher, listed in the telephone Directory under Mr. W.D. Farr, Secretary of the University, should now be listed under Mr. John Becker, Office of the Assistant Vice-President.

GENERAL

- * A meeting of the York University Faculty Association will be held in Room N102, the Ross Building, at 12 noon on Wednesday, December 16. Salary and benefits negotiations will be discussed.
- * The English Club Coffee Hour, usually held in the Graduate Students Common Room in the Ross Building on Wednesdays at 4:00 p.m., will be held in Room 002, Winters College this Wednesday only. The programme for the week is a play, "A Child's Christmas in Wales", produced, directed, and performed by the York University Players. Refreshments will be served after the performance in the Winters College Music Room.
- * A memorial fund has been established by the friends of E. Carl Smith, a graduate student in the political science division who died suddenly at his home in September. The fund will be used for an annual scholarship to be presented to a political science major who has distinguished himself in his third year of study. Those wishing to contribute should send cheques made payable to the E. Carl Smith Memorial Fund or cash contributions to Professor David Hoffman, Social Science Division, Room S757, the Ross Building.
- * Veteran screen actress Lillian Gish will appear at York on January 8 and 9 in special performances sponsored by the Programme in Film. On Friday, January 8, she will deliver a special lecture based on her association with producer D. W. Griffith, and on Saturday, January 9 Miss Gish will give a brief lecture on her film "La Bohème" followed by a showing of the film. Both performances will be held in Burton Auditorium. Ticket information will be available at the Burton Box Office after the first of the year.
