GENERAL

- * University Closing Due to Extreme Weather Conditions: The approach of winter calls for the annual notice of policy with regard to closing the University when extreme weather makes road conditions hazardous. As a large community with academic schedules to meet and many members to serve, the importance of avoiding disruption is evident. There are times, however, when public safety indicates temporary interruption of the regular routines of the University. Hopefully, such occasions will be rare. The information given below is provided for the guidance of York members. It should be noted that, because a storm may coincide with special events such as examinations, visits by distinguished guests, and special meetings which would be particularly difficult to reschedule, it is not the intention of this policy to require the cancellation of such events. Whether or not they are cancelled is at the discretion of those directly responsible. When severe weather conditions occur before the University opens in the morning, on the authority of the President, and the Chairman of Senate, the Emergency Service Centre will be notified and an announcement suspending classes and office attendance will be made on the following radio stations as soon after 7:00 a.m. as possible:

The person so informed will then be responsible for passing on the message to everyone in the unit. Announcement will also be made over Radio York. Hence, on the basis of information secured late in the afternoon, the Dean of Atkinson College will determine whether or not the evening session will be cancelled. - * University Closing Due to Extreme Weather Conditions: The approach of winter calls for the annual notice of policy with regard to closing the University when extreme weather makes road conditions hazardous. As a large community with academic schedules to meet and many members to serve, the importance of avoiding disruption is evident. There are times, however, when public safety indicates temporary interruption of the regular routines of the University. Hopefully, such occasions will be rare. The information given below is provided for the guidance of York members. It should be noted that, because a storm may coincide with special events such as examinations, visits by distinguished guests, and special meetings which would be particularly difficult to reschedule, it is not the intention of this policy to require the cancellation of such events. When such a decision has been made, the Office of the Vice-President (University Services) will notify the designated representative of each Faculty/College and administrative department that offices will be closed and/or classes cancelled from a specific time. The person so informed will then be responsible for passing on the message to members of the unit. Unless such announcements are made, members of the community will be expected to maintain regular schedules.
