UNIVERSITY STATEMENT ON POSSIBLE STRIKE BY CUEW

If mediation sessions scheduled for this weekend should fail to produce a settlement in the current negotiations between the University and CUEW, it is possible that CUEW will elect to strike the University. The union is already in a legal position to do so.

It is the objective of the University to reach an amicable settlement with CUEW during the mediation sessions. If that proves impossible and a strike occurs, the University intends to continue its operations. Those members of the CUEW bargaining unit who elect to continue performing their duties will be paid at the regular rate; those not performing their duties will not be paid. No vacation pay, sick leave, or other leaves will be paid for members of the CUEW bargaining units during the period of a strike. Any salary overpayments will be recovered in subsequent pays. Other employees of the University are expected to report for work as usual. Letters have been sent to each of York's other unions, indicating that the University expects them and their bargaining unit members to honour their respective Collective Agreements.

Picket Line Rights and Responsibilities

It is now well established in Ontario that forming a picket line during the time a union is in a legal strike situation is not in itself illegal, nor is it illegal to communicate information or for a member of a picket line to use peaceful persuasion on an employee about to enter the premises picketed. On the other hand, it is entirely legal for members of a striking bargaining unit to cross a picket line, and it is a legal offence for pickets to use force, threats, or threatening gestures to block access to premises, to conduct themselves in such a way as to constitute a nuisance at law or an unlawful assembly, to trespass, to interfere by force with employees who wish to work, or to use threats or moral pressure amounting to compulsion. Mass picketing which has the effect of preventing students or employees from entering the University or prevents free passage of cars, trucks or goods in or out, similarly constitutes illegal picketing. The University does not intend to allow any picketing on the campus itself, and will insist that it be limited to the periphery.

In summary then, pickets are legally permitted to do certain things. They may carry signs stating the nature of the dispute. They may ask you to honour their picket line but they have no right to threaten you either verbally or physically to enforce that request. They are supposed to keep moving and the union is not allowed to place so many strikers in front of an entrance to the campus that free passage in and out by non-striking staff is prevented.

All reasonable steps must be taken to avoid violence or other incidents on the picket line; the University will arrange for police surveillance of the picket lines to the extent necessary. In the event that entrance to the campus is prevented, employees other than those in the striking bargaining unit should inform their Supervisor or Department Head/Chairman by telephone that they are unable to report to work.

- W.D. Farr, Vice-President
(Employee & Student Relations)

UNIVERSITY STATEMENT ON BREAKDOWN OF MEDIATION WITH CUEW

CUEW has broken off mediation with the University despite the best efforts of the University's negotiators to conclude an agreement which addresses most of those concerns to which CUEW has publically attached importance.

The University's negotiators wish to draw the attention of the York community specifically to the following positions which have been put to CUEW.

CLASS SIZE: part-time faculty and teaching assistants

The University and the Union agree upon the objective of maintaining class sizes and formats conducive to pedagogical soundness.

Commencing with postings and contracts for Autumn/Winter 1982/83, projected course enrolments established by the University shall be set out in Course Director position postings and employee contracts. Commencing with Autumn/Winter 1981/82, when actual official enrolments in a course as of the official count dates exceed 50, then upon request, assistance with the excess enrolment shall be provided to the Course Director in the form of at least marker/grader assistance.

The University shall convey to Tutors/Demonstrators at the time of hiring the anticipated enrolment of the group for which the Tutor/Demonstrator will be responsible. If the actual official enrolment as of the official count dates exceeds the anticipated enrolment by more than 10%, the Course Director shall, at the Tutor/Demonstrator's request, meet to review the nature of the work expected of the employee in order to maintain a total workload consistent with that entailed by the anticipated enrolments.

[Graduate Teaching Assistants already have workload protection under the terms of the 1980/81 Agreement, and this protection is to continue.]

ASSISTANCE TO GRADUATE STUDENTS

(1) Thesis Production: Upon request by any full or part-time York graduate student who is a member of the bargaining unit or who has been a member of the bargaining unit prior to September 1, 1981, and who has successfully defended his/her thesis/dissertation at oral examination subsequent to September 1, 1981, the University shall grant such an individual $50 towards the cost of production of the final form of his/her Master's Thesis or $100 towards the cost of production of the final form of his/her Doctoral dissertation, on receipt of an invoice showing that the student was charged at least those amounts for such production.

(2) Tuition Fee Rebate: The University agrees that all graduate students holding at least a full Teaching Assistantship in the year ending August 31, 1982 will receive a tuition fee rebate equivalent to the 1980/81 to 1981/82 increase in tuition fees corresponding to their student registration status as of November 1, 1981, to a maximum of $120.00 during the academic year 1981/82. Graduate students employed for less than one full Teaching Assistantship shall receive a rebate prorated to their fractional appointment.

RESEARCH SUPPORT FOR PART-TIME FACULTY: The University agrees to establish a fund of $8,000, to be administered by the Office of Research Administration, to support research and professional travel grants for part-time faculty members of the University.

WITHDRAWAL OF POSTINGS; CANCELLATION OF APPOINTMENTS

The University may withdraw a posting for which there are no qualified applicants at any time after the period of obligatory posting (normally at least three weeks). Where there are qualified applicants, the University may withdraw a posted position before a written offer of appointment is made, up to:

- (a) for Course Director, Tutor 5, Team Lecturer, Writing Workshop Instructor, and Instructor (Faculty of Education) -- four weeks prior to the commencement of classes.
- (b) for Tutor 1, Tutor 2, Tutor 6, and Coach (Fine Arts) -- three weeks prior to the commencement of classes
- (c) for Tutor 3, Tutor 4, and Computer Services Advisers -- two weeks prior to the commencement of classes
- (d) for all other positions - four weeks prior to the commencement of classes.

After these dates (and where there are qualified applicants), a written offer of appointment shall be made. The requirement for posting of a position shall delay the appointment dates set out above only to the extent necessary to comply with those posting requirements. When an appointment which has been offered in writing is cancelled for reasons of insufficient enrolment in the course in question, and no equivalent position is found for the employee, he/she shall receive as compensation one-eighth (1/8) of the salary for the position. When an appointment which has been offered in writing is cancelled for any other reason, and no equivalent position is found for the employee, he/she shall receive as compensation one-quarter (1/4) of the salary for the position. If an appointment is cancelled and no equivalent position is found for the employee, that employee may accrue seniority as per Article 13.06 (Leaves), provided that the employee is qualified under 13.06.

THE UNIVERSITY SHALL NOT CANCEL AN APPOINTMENT AND HAVE THOSE DUTIES PERFORMED BY NON-CUEW BARGAINING UNIT MEMBERS.

In addition, during mediation CUEW dropped its demand for guaranteed complements, and the University dropped its proposal for limits on the extent to which individual CUEW members can utilize accumulated seniority to acquire multiple assignments.

The University is prepared to return to mediation at any time in an effort to end this dispute with CUEW.

Vice-President (Employee & Student Relations)

However, where the benefit is in respect of the employee's own tuition he is entitled to a deduction for tuition. The employee is not entitled to any such deduction in respect of tuition provided to a dependant but the latter may be entitled to the deduction." The value of such tuition will be added to the employee's T4 slip in January with inherent income tax implications for the 1981 tax return.
