EMERGENCY SERVICES CENTRE -3333

GENERAL

- * The University Archives has prepared a display of manuscripts, books, publications and memorabilia reflecting the career of the Canadian writer Norman Levine (1949-1980) to recognize his contribution to the research collections of York University. The display will be on view in the University Archives, Room 105 of the Scott Library (8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays) until January 10, 1983.
- * The deadline date for the exchange program between York and the University of York in England has been extended to December 20. Faculty members are urged to encourage students to apply and are invited to nominate students for the exchange. The University of York is also interested in arranging exchanges of faculty members. For further information, call Professor David Logan at local -2445.
- * Cancellation of Classes/Closing of Offices due to Bad Weather Conditions
It is the time of year again when winter winds, precipitation and temperatures combine on occasion to make driving dangerous. As a large community with academic schedules to meet and many members to service, the importance of avoiding disruption is evident. There are times, however, when public safety indicates temporary interruption of the regular routines of the University. Hopefully, such occasions will be rare. The information given below is provided for the guidance of York members. The decision to cancel all classes or close the offices in the University is the responsibility of the Chairman of Senate and the President, respectively.
When the decision is made during regular office hours, the Office of the Vice-President (University Services) will notify the designated of each Faculty/College and administrative department that offices will be closed and/or classes cancelled from a specific time. The person so informed will then be responsible for passing on the message to members of the unit. An announcement will be made as soon as possible after the decision has been made and, in any case, not later than 4:00 p.m. over the following radio stations:
Radio York, Radio Glendon, CKEY(AM), CHUM(FM), CFRB(AM), CBL(AM), CKFM(FM)
When the decision is made before the University opens in the morning, the Emergency Services Centre will be notified and an announcement suspending classes and office attendance will be made on the above-designated stations as soon after 7:00 a.m. as possible.
Unless such announcements are made, members of the community will be expected to maintain regular schedules and are asked not to telephone the Office of the Vice-President (University Services).
- * The Centre for Continuing Education is offering "Mindpower '82: Accelerating Your Learning Potential" commencing January 4, 1983. Mindpower '82 is a ten-hour workshop designed to help participants cope with information overload. For a detailed brochure on this and other non-degree programs may call the Centre at local -2504.
- * An early morning staff meeting is planned for the York campus bookstore on Friday, December 10; thus, the bookstore will not open for business until 10:15 a.m. that day.
- * The Inter-College Curriculum Committee (ICC) invites proposals for new 100-level college courses (college tutorials) for the academic year 1983-84. These courses meet two hours per week, and the number which may be taught by Unit I members is restricted under the CUEW collective agreement. The proposals should follow the format prescribed by the Senate of York University, and may be submitted, together with an updated curriculum vitae, either to Professor Mark Webber, Chairman ICC, at Room 238, Vanier College, or directly to the Academic Advisor/Senior Tutor of one of the colleges. Proposals submitted to a specific college will not be passed on to the other colleges unless the proposer so requests. Deadline for submitting proposals is January 15, 1983; the earlier a course is submitted, the better its chances of being accepted. Interested parties may contact Professor Webber at the above-mentioned address or telephone local -2339 for more information.

- * Cancellation of Classes/Closing of Offices due to Bad Weather Conditions
It is the time of year again when winter winds, precipitation and temperatures combine on occasion to make driving dangerous. As a large community with academic schedules to meet and many members to service, the importance of avoiding disruption is evident. There are times, however, when public safety indicates temporary interruption of the regular routines of the University. Hopefully, such occasions will be rare. The information given below is provided for the guidance of York members. The decision to cancel all classes or close the offices in the University is the responsibility of the Chairman of Senate and the President, respectively.
When the decision is made during regular office hours, the Office of the Vice-President (University Services) will notify the designated of each Faculty/College and administrative department that offices will be closed and/or classes cancelled from a specific time. The person so informed will then be responsible for passing on the message to members of the unit. An announcement will be made as soon as possible after the decision has been made and, in any case, not later than 4:00 p.m. over the following radio stations:
Radio York, Radio Glendon, CKEY(AM), CHUM(FM), CFRB(AM), CBL(AM), CKFM(FM)
When the decision is made before the University opens in the morning, the Emergency Services Centre will be notified and an announcement suspending classes and office attendance will be made on the above-designated stations as soon after 7:00 a.m. as possible.
Unless such announcements are made, members of the community will be expected to maintain regular schedules and are asked not to telephone the Office of the Vice-President (University Services).
