GENERAL

- * Statement Re. Human Rights Commission: In June, 1982, York University advertised internally for a Coordinator of the about-to-be-established Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre; the posting stipulated that candidates must be female. A complaint of discrimination on the basis of sex was made to the Ontario Human Rights Commission, which entered into an investigation and discussion of the matter with the University.
The University's position was that the stipulation as to sex constituted a "reasonable and bona fide qualification because of the nature of the employment" (Human Rights Code, s.23), given the overwhelming likelihood that potential complainants to the Centre would be female and the importance of providing a non-threatening environment in encouraging such individuals to come forward. The O.H.R.C. did not accept this argument. While supporting whole-heartedly the concept of the Centre, the Commission officers decided that it was inappropriate to depart from the merit principle in hiring, other than in the context of a Commission-approved affirmative action program, regardless of how worthwhile the goals might be in terms of dealing effectively with sexual harassment. The University had undertaken to be guided by the Commission in this matter. Accordingly, a memorandum of agreement has been signed with the Commission resolving the complaint on the basis that the competition for the Coordinator position will be readvertised and readministered without specification of sex as a criterion for eligibility. The selection of a Coordinator and the formal inauguration of the Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre will follow shortly thereafter.
- * As one of the speakers in the James Gillies Lecture Series, Canadian businessman Maurice Strong will speak to York business students and alumni on Wednesday, March 23 in the Royal Sutton Ballroom, Sutton Place Hotel, at 5:30 p.m. Mr. Strong, who has recently been appointed Chairman of the Canada Development Investment Corporation, will address the topic "Private Sector and Government Relationships: The Canadian Dilemma". Mr. Strong's talk is sponsored by the Association of Students and Business and the Alumni Affairs Department of York's Faculty of Administrative Studies.
- * York University is presenting a public conference on "University Education 20 Years Hence: Substance and Symbolism" scheduled from March 15-17, with participants scrutinizing the pertinent issues surrounding the future and fate of universities in the 80s and 90s. Guest speakers will include: York President H. Ian Macdonald; Mr. Mortimer J. Adler, Institute for Philosophical Studies; Professor Gary B. Rush, Simon Fraser University; Dr. Norman Henchey, McGill University; David W. Livingstone, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education; and Dr. Myer Horowitz, President, University of Alberta. For further information call Vicki Hodgkinson, Office of the President, at local -3903.
- * The Foreign Student Office advises Trinidad and Tobago students (visa and permanent residents) both graduate and undergraduate, who are interested in employment in Trinidad and Tobago, to register with the Consulate-General, 365 Bloor Street East, Suite 1202, as soon as possible.
- * Members of the community are asked to note the following change to the York Telephone Directory:
Mrs. Susan J. Scott, Office of the Dean (Arts), S930 Ross Building
- * The 1983 Food Service Tendering Committee (Glendon College) has completed its task and has unanimously selected Rill Food Services Ltd. to replace Beaver Foods Ltd. effective May 1, 1983. The contract is for 3 years with a 2-year option renewable by either party. Major factors for selecting Rill Food Services, according to the Committee, were: parity for all York resident undergraduates in quality, service and prices at both campuses; an extensive servery renovation plan; and, most favourable financial terms.
- * The Economics Student Association is bringing back five York graduates with work experience in diverse fields to discuss careers in Economics on Monday, March 14 at 4:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge (8th floor) of the Ross Building.
- * Dorothy Livesay, poet and twice winner of the Governor General's prize, will read from her forthcoming book of poems, The Phases of Love, on Monday, March 14 at 4:00 p.m. in Sylvester's (Stong College). Ms. Livesay's visit is being sponsored by Stong College.
- * The Faculty of Environmental Studies is hosting a lecture by Dr. Trevor Williams, University of Western Australia, on Tuesday, March 15 from 9:30 a.m.-12:00 noon in Room 503 of the Scott Library. Dr. Williams will give a talk entitled "Learning to Manage Our Futures: The Participative Re-design of Societies in Turbulent Transitions".

GENERAL

- * The position of Coordinator, Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre was initially advertised in June, 1982, specifying a requirement that candidates be female. The requirement resulted in a complaint of violation of the Ontario Human Rights Code. The complaint has now been settled and the position is being readvertised.

Job Announcement: Coordinator, Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre -- Following upon the recommendation in the Report of the Presidential Advisory Committee on Sexual Harassment, York University will establish a Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre, to be run by a part-time Coordinator, with clerical assistance, and backed up by an Advisory Board. As outlined in the Report, the Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre has two major responsibilities:
1) to educate the University community about sexual harassment;
2) and, to provide information about procedures for dealing with allegations.
Applicants for the position of Coordinator must be affiliated with York University. If an employee of York University, the Coordinator will receive 1/3 release time, and if a non-employee, remuneration. The position commences in July and is a two-year term.
Applicants should familiarize themselves with the Report of the Presidential Advisory Committee on Sexual Harassment. Letters, detailing interest and experience, should be sent to:
Search Committee

GENERAL

- * The Twelfth Annual Urban Studies Symposium on "Race and Ethnic Relations Policy in Large Urban School Districts" will take place on Friday, April 8 with the plenary session being held in the Senate Chamber (S915) of the Ross Building, starting at 9:30 a.m. Topics to be covered will include: the nature of institutional racism (the difference between this concept and personal bigotry); the role of schools in the situation, both in perpetuating and in exposing and limiting the effects of institutional bias; and the role of formal policy, effectively implemented, in helping educators deal with the problem at the classroom level. The keynote speaker will be Gordon Cressy, President of the United Way of Greater Toronto, formerly Member of Executive Committee, Metropolitan Toronto Council. Among the speakers will be: Tony Souza, Adviser, Race Relations, Toronto Board of Education; Fran Endicott, Trustee Ward 7, Toronto Board of Education; Hugh McKeown, Supervising Principal, Heritage Languages and Race/Ethnic Relations Programs, North York Board of Education; and, Mae Waese, Chairman of the Board, North York Board of Education. After lunch that day, the group will divide into workshops which will cover a number of the problems which arise in implementing race and ethnic relations policy at the level of the school and the classroom. Coordinator of the Symposium is York Social Science/Urban Studies professor Dalton Kehoe. For further information, call local -6271.
- * The Atkinson Women's Studies Program, in conjunction with the Office of the Master of Atkinson College, is presenting "Write-On '83", a festival of Canadian women writers which will take place at the York campus on Saturday, May 7. The day's program includes readings, rap sessions, panel discussions, writing for children, creative writing and science fiction. To date, writers who have confirmed their participation in the conference include: Constance Beresford-Howe, Joy Kagawa, Dorothy Livesay, Suniti Namjoshi, Elizabeth Smart, Audrey Thomas (also the keynote speaker), Rosalind Conway, Lynne Kositsky, Miriam Waddington, Phyllis Webb, Carol Bolt, Gwendolyn MacEwen, Enid Doyley and Judith Merrill. Participation in the conference is on a first-come, first-served basis, so interested members of the community should register early. For registration forms and further information, call the Master's Office at local -6434.
- * Bethune College is sponsoring "The Alternative Press in Canada", an April 6-9 conference focussing on Canada's periodical publishing industry and its contribution to Canadian cultural life. It will be open to the public at no charge and will take place at Bethune College. More than 30 speakers will examine the character and organization of Canada's independent publishing industry and some of the following are topics that will be covered: The Need for and Problems of Having an Alternative Press; The Canadian Journal of the Arts; The Journal of Radical Politics; Feminist Publishing in Canada; and, The Role of the Literary Magazine in Canada. Speakers will include: James Aronson, founding editor of the National Guardian; Clive Robertson, Fuse; Mel Watkins, This Magazine; and Luc Jutra of the Canada Council. For further information and a full program of events, call Joan Davies, Senior Tutor of Bethune College, at local -3940.

- * The Computer Services Committee has set up a Subcommittee to investigate the future of the DECsystem service at York. This Committee will examine the need for this type of service and recommend whether it should be: continued as at present; improved; or, replaced by another type of service. The Committee would like, therefore, to hear the views of all past, present, and potential users of this service. To facilitate this the Committee will be pleased to receive oral and written submissions on this service. As the Committee intends to submit its report by mid-April, all submissions should be made before April 8, 1983. A lack of response from the user community will be deemed to be a vote against this service. The members of the Committee are: G. Denzel, Mathematics; J.R. McBride, Computer Science; R.P. McEachran, Physics; M. Stevens, Library; and, T. Warner, Academic Computing. Members of the community are asked to feel free to contact any of these members; however, all written submissions or requests to appear before the Committee should be addressed to the Chairman of the Committee, J.R. McBride, Room N620, Ross Building; telephone local -3977.
- * The Stores Section of Physical Plant will supply available materials, stationery supplies and/or furnishing items charged in the 1982/83 fiscal year until the close of business April 15, 1983. During the remainder of April, absolute necessity requirements only will be processed, with respective charges as a 1983/84 expense.
