October 21, 1983

Dear Part-time faculty member:

I have been discussing with representatives of York's part-time faculty the possibility of listing our long-service part-time faculty in the York University calendars. As it happens, this year York is producing a separate brochure listing the faculty, providing an opportunity to experiment with such inclusion. I should like, therefore, to invite current part-time faculty who have taught at York for at least five years to complete and return the tearsheet below to York Faculty Listing, c/o Room S907 Ross Building by November 9, 1983.

We must ask that the information be complete and accurate and in the proper form, as there is insufficient time before printing to permit a further contact for additional data or corrections.

Dear Part-time faculty member:

I have been discussing with representatives of York's part-time faculty the possibility of listing our long-service part-time faculty in the York University calendars. As it happens, this year York is producing a separate brochure listing the faculty, providing an opportunity to experiment with such inclusion. I should like, therefore, to invite current part-time faculty who have taught at York for at least five years to complete and return the tearsheet below to York Faculty Listing, c/o Room S907 Ross Building by November 9, 1983.

We must ask that the information be complete and accurate and in the proper form, as there is insufficient time before printing to permit a further contact for additional data or corrections.
