Susan Mann appointed President of York University

The appointment of Susan Mann, Professor of History, University of Ottawa, as President Elect of York University has been announced by William A. Dimma, Chair of the Board of Governors.

In announcing the appointment Dr. Dimma also paid tribute to retiring President Harry W. Arthurs. "Under President Arthurs term, York University has flourished," said Dr. Dimma. "Without his creative and effective leadership, the important progress that York has made toward fulfilling its mandate for excellence would have been very difficult to achieve."

President Arthurs will step down after more than seven years in office to return to teaching and research at Osgoode Hall Law School.

In making the announcement, Dr. Dimma also expressed his appreciation for the interest in York University demonstrated by the many other highly qualified candidates.

"I want to thank the Presidential Search Committee, chaired by John Bankes," said Dr. Dimma. "They worked effectively and openly to bring the search to a successful completion."

On behalf of the Board of Governors, Dr. Dimma expressed to Dr. Mann best wishes for a successful term as President of York University.
