Good Friday: University offices will be closed Good Friday, April 9.

All Libraries will be closed Good Friday, April 9 with regular hours on Saturday and Sunday, April 10 and 11.

The York Campus Bookstore will be closed Good Friday, April 9 and Saturday, April 10.

The York Undergraduate Admissions and Liaison Office (daytime studies) will launch a "Take York Home" campaign for the summer. Interested volunteers are asked to act as summer ambassadors of the University. Anyone interested in learning more about York's diverse program offerings or anyone heading outside of Ontario for the summer is asked to call Joanne Massey in Admissions and Liaison (-55100) for further information.

The new Bell Canada Telephone Directories will be delivered to University departments during the first two weeks of April. Physical Resources will collect all old telephone directories for recycling. When the new books are delivered, please ensure that the old directories are either taken to the same area where the new directories have been delivered, or given to the Caretaking staff. Old telephone directories can also be left on building loading docks. In 1992, York recovered 2.32 tons of old telephone directories for recycling, while reducing the number of new directories brought into the University by about half from the previous year. Any questions concerning the program can be directed to Paul Mayol at the University's Waste Reduction Helpline (-40444).

The Retirement Planning Centre will offer a six-week series titled "Introduction to Retirement Planning." The series will be offered on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m., April 15 to May 20. The series will deal with finances, estate planning, lifestyle and leisure time, health, relationships, York's pension and post-retirement benefits plan. There is a $25 materials fee. To register, call -66228 or E-Mail: retirece@YorkVM2.

A TicketMaster outlet has opened at the Information Centre in the Student Centre. Any tickets distributed through the TicketMaster system can be purchased at this new outlet. Also, any tickets that have been purchased by phone can be picked up there. Box office hours are 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. In addition, the Information Centre outlet is a "first day sales outlet" and therefore will open Saturday mornings (if necessary) from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The Department of Safety, Security and Parking Services is pleased to announce that there will be no increase in parking fees for the 1993/94 fiscal year. Parking decals are now available from the Parking Office (Room D37, EOB). All new decal transactions can now be processed via the campus mail or Canada Post. This will reduce delays and eliminate the need to line-up at the Parking Office. Valid proof of vehicle ownership is required for all first time purchases. Patrons who have not purchased a decal in the last year will also be required to provide proof of ownership (a photocopy of the front and back will be sufficient). In response to concerns regarding personal safety, a new category of parking decal has been created. The new Daytime Unreserved/Evening Reserved Decal will allow the holder to park in outer unreserved lots during the day, and in interior reserved lots (except York Lanes and JJ lot) after 4:00 p.m. The fee for this decal is $23.54 per month. NOTE: Effective May 1, vehicles with Daytime Unreserved Decals will no longer be allowed to park in reserved lots in the evening.

YORK UNIVERSITY DISCONTINUES MEN'S AND WOMEN'S INTERUNIVERSITY GYMNASTICS TEAMS

York University, on the advice and recommendation of the Executive Committee (Athletics and Recreation) of the Department of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics, has decided to discontinue the men's and women's interuniversity gymnastics teams at York University at the end of the 1992-93 competitive season.

The competitive excellence achieved by these two interuniversity teams over the past 25 years is recognized. The decision for discontinuation has been made only after lengthy, careful deliberation and ongoing consultation with the appropriate parties.

The Executive Committee (Athletics and Recreation) of the Department of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics monitors the needs of the interuniversity athletic teams and recommends the continuation or discontinuation of individual interuniversity sports on the basis of sport team criteria and ongoing evaluation. This ongoing process has led to the discontinuation of several sports at York University in recent years, including men's wrestling, women's synchronized swimming, men's golf, men's and women's squash and men's curling.

The criteria used in reaching a decision include facilities, cost/benefit, competitive structure and feeder system.

The decision to discontinue the men's and women's interuniversity gymnastics teams was based on the above criteria.

Facility

York University has never been able to supply an adequate space for the ongoing operation of gymnastics. Unlike other interuniversity sports operated at York University, gymnastics requires a large dedicated space to house appropriately the large, heavy equipment and the nature of the physical movements required in the sport. Over time, the space provided on-campus proved to be inadequate from a safety perspective. In 1991 a decision was made to re-locate gymnastics to an off-campus rental site. At that time, the senior University administration indicated that it would not support this rental arrangement over the long-term and in September 1992, the owners of the facility were informed that the contractual arrangement would be terminated as of April 30, 1993.

Cost/Benefit

On the basis of cost per athlete, these teams are the most expensive offered by the Department. Despite a number of attempts and for a number of reasons, York has not been able to offset costs through income generated by community-oriented gymnastics clubs directed by the coaching staff on-campus or by other opportunities such as gymnastic seminars.

Competitive Structure

In the Ontario Universities Athletic Association (OUAA) and the Ontario Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Association (OWIAA), only 5 of a possible 17 universities compete. The Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU) chose to discontinue the national championships for men's and women's gymnastics in 1988. The CIAU decision was based on decreased university involvement.

Feeder System

The changing nature of formal physical activity programs within the secondary schools has resulted in a model where gymnastics has developed into a club-based sport for its competitive opportunities as opposed to a school-based sport.

Opportunities for elite competition in gymnastics exist within the club system and it has become increasingly difficult for universities to replicate this environment.

GENERAL:

The Search Committee is actively seeking nominations from the York community for potential candidates for the position of Dean of the Faculty of Arts. Candidates are to be internal to the University. In keeping with the University's commitment to affirmative action, the Committee will make special efforts to seek and attract women candidates and candidates from amongst all parts of York's diverse community. The candidate must have excellent academic qualifications and administrative skills and experience, in order to provide outstanding leadership for the teaching and research programs of the University's largest Faculty, and to be responsible for the Faculty's budget and general administration. Because the Dean of a Faculty at York is one of the senior administrators of the University, a familiarity with the wider organization of the University is a desirable attribute. Nominations may be made by May 10, 1993, in strict confidence to Billie Mullick, Secretary of the Search Committee for the Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Room S958, Ross. The Committee Chair is Prof. Ken Davey of the Biology Department.

The Search Committee invites applications for the position of Director of Human Resources. The Director will lead the Human Resources Department in the provision of client services and human resources leadership to academic and administrative department heads and provide advice to senior management in the formulation of human resources policies and strategies. The Director will also provide leadership in the areas of human resources planning and development (including training and development), employment and job evaluation, management information and payroll, labour relations and pensions and benefits. The successful candidate will be a broadly based professional with expertise in contemporary human resources issues. Prior management experience in a large public sector institution such as a major hospital, government department or another university would be highly desirable. Outstanding leadership and communications abilities, a commitment to employment equity and a consultative "team" orientation are required. Please respond in complete confidence to: The Landmark Consulting Group Inc., 115 University Avenue, Suite 200, Toronto, Ontario M5H 3B7. Application deadline: Friday, April 23, 1993.

CCS Telecommunications wishes to inform all York faculty, staff, alumni and students who make long distance calls from their homes of a new service available to them. York's high volume long distance profile has made it possible for CCS Telecommunications to negotiate highly favourable long distance rates for home service. They are offering up to 20% discounts on international calls, 40% off all Canadian calling areas and 17¢ per minute to all United States locations. These greatly reduced rates are not available from any other reseller of long distance services. More information, including the procedure for registering for this service, will be available from CCS Telecommunications.

GENERAL:

THE SOCIAL CONTRACT AND YORK'S CURRENT LABOUR NEGOTIATIONS

On April 5th, the Premier called together representatives of Ontario's various public service employer and employee organizations, including organizations which receive significant transfer payments from the Government, for the purpose of proposing social contract bargaining. While it is too early to know exactly what this means, it seems that the Government wishes to have employer and employee groups in each sector get together voluntarily to discuss how best to reduce the burden of compensation costs.

The sectoral groups have not yet been defined, although a statement in this regard is expected to be made very soon by the Government's negotiating team led by the Deputy Minister of Health, Michael Decter. We anticipate that universities will be grouped in with colleges and schools.

The implication of this announcement for funding in 1993-94 is not yet clear; what is clear, however, is that the Government has seen its revenues decline significantly in the last two years and it is projecting a substantial increase in its deficit in 1993-94, perhaps as high as $17 billion, if measures are not taken to keep the debt under control. It believes this would lead to a situation in which payment of debt interest would become the largest Government program, eclipsing even the education and health programs.

This circumstance casts a shadow of uncertainty across the financial assumptions underlying York's budget for next year. While this exists, it would be imprudent to enter into major new obligations. Since the objective of the Government is to find means for controlling the costs of compensation, it would be particularly imprudent for us to enter into new obligations in this area until more is known about the "sectoral bargaining" proposal and its consequences for university funding.

York University will be endeavouring to clarify the situation as soon as possible and to weigh the ramifications for the University of any developments which occur. In the meantime, we will be postponing discussions with employee groups about increments and changes to contract language which have financial costs associated with them. We will continue, of course, to discuss issues which do not involve costs. We look forward to a full resumption of negotiations on all matters, including cost items, as soon as the University's funding situation has been clarified.

Glendon Bookstore Hours (April 19-May 2): Monday-Friday, 9:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; Saturday & Sunday, closed.

The York and Glendon Campus Bookstores will be closed for inventory on April 22 and 23. Micro York (the computer division of the Bookstore) and the University Central Supplies Department will also be closed on the above dates. Orders for supplies should be placed as soon as possible.

The York Campus Bookstore wishes to remind the York community that course book requests for Fall/Winter 1993/94 courses should be submitted as soon as possible.

The Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre (SHEACC) has for viewing, copies of the video "A Safer Place: Preventing Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault at Work," produced by the City of Toronto. It is recommended for viewing by all managers in all units and all women and male staff. Please call -55500 to book the video for department viewing. It is 25 minutes long and comes with an educational manual.

The York Undergraduate Admissions and Liaison Office (daytime studies) is launching a "Take York Home" campaign for the summer. Interested volunteers are asked to act as summer ambassadors of the University. Anyone who is heading outside of Ontario for the summer and who knows someone interested in learning more about York's diverse program offerings is asked to call Joanne Massey in Admissions and Liaison (-55100) for further information.

The Office of Research Administration and the Office of the Associate Vice-President (Research) are organizing a "How to Get Published" seminar. It will take place April 21 at 2:00 p.m. in the Senate Chamber (9th floor, Ross). Faculty members interested in attending, should contact ORA at -55055 (E-mail: RESEARCH@VM2.YORKU.CA).

A Farewell Reception will be held to honour Dean Michael Stevenson of the Faculty of Arts. The reception will take place May 5 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Faculty Club. Members of the York community are invited to drop in.

CCS Telecommunications wishes to inform the York community that beginning in September, they will be offering telephone service to the undergraduate and graduate residences on campus. Campus residents will get a wide range of telephone services at rates lower than those of the Telephone Company. Discounts will also be applied on long distance charges. Students can sign up for this service at the Registration Fair.

The Printing Services Department will be closed for inventory on April 30. All printing requests submitted by 4:30 p.m. on April 16 will be completed and charged against the 1992/93 budget. Requests received after April 16 will be processed as soon as possible. However, orders not completed by 4:30 p.m. on April 23 will be charged against the 1993/94 budget.
